Between twentyoccurs of collecting together and repeating their horrible massacres. Between twenty-five and thirty families have already been destroyed. Three families were yesterday murdered, one consisting of ten persons. Something will be effected to-day, as very active officers and well armed men are at the heels of these villians. Yesterday a very spirited resistance was made by a party, sent out to reconnoitre and discover the position of these fellows, consisting of four against twenty blacks; the whites repulsed them, killed three or four, and took several prisoners. Many of the blacks are well mounted: their leader was shot in the attempt made to force the was shot in the attempt made to force the
